For an hour before the time for the rally at the hall, Tubbs' band played at the Wauregan House corner, while a short reception was held in the Hotel parlors, where Chairman Frank H. In theory any representative would want to do all he could for his people at home, but in practice it works like this: When the Underwood Tariff the rally was called to order by state central committeeman Hall, who presented Mr. Brewer as chairman Mr. Brewer as chairman Mr. Brewer electrified the meeting into rousing applause with his opening words.

For 18 years, he said he had been out of presiding at republican meetings. When his old friend W. C. Mowry died that took him out of politics, but "Tm glad to be here tonight" this: When the 'Underwood Tariff Bill had been prepared by the Democratic members of the Committee on Ways and Means, every single one of our Connecticut Congressmen knew that it would injure and cripple many Connecticut industries, each one of them protested against it, and yet when the bill was presented to the House, Mr. Reilly and Mr. Mahan, Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Donovan and Mr. Louchoicest varieties of these lines over single one of the shown in Norwich, and at prices sure to please.

'I'm warmed up tonight." shouted Chairman Brewer in a voice that rang through the hall. "I told them there was danger in inviting me to preside tonight, for I'm going to say some things and say them straight. We are in danger! The democratic party is ruled by the South and we in New England are in danger for they say we want he New England industries in the South, and they are on their way to accomplish this.

Governor Baldwin says that if elected, he would be able to soften legislation that would be against Connecticut and New England. Isn't that a street of the street of the state of Texas alone a millions, the State of Texas alone a million and a half. The Peedee river in South Carolina received $10.000, and the Santee, Wanatee and Congares rivers in the same exate, $30,000.

Governor Baldwin says that if elected, he would be able to soften legislation that would be against Connecticut and New England. Isn't that a confession from his own party that the enemy is in power?

The governor would be taken into the senate with a padiock on his lips and bound hand and foot. What we want is a free man and they know it. We have got to redeem the manufacturing of New England. The beet sugar industry has been making 900,00 tons of sugar, but it is the purpose to destroy this industry and compel us to buy European sugar. That is democratic financing for you.

Before proceeding to introduce the first speaker Chairman Brewer spoke a word about the election of a judge of probate, his mention of Judge Ayling's name bringing out spontaneous burst of applause. This is an important office, the chairman said, and in Judge Ayling, who is going to be reelected, we have a main whose hand is guided remitting legal charges in the settlement of estates, whose heirs could ill afrord expense.

of this campaign with the highest hope of this campaign with the highest hope and the greatest confidence in its successful issue. The great questions of the present campaign are almost entirely national. The main question is, shall the next Congress remain Democratic, and be given the power to continue those policies that have wrought such disturbance in the business world, or shall the people of Connecticut who have suffered most therefrom, put an effective check thereon by electing a Republican United States Senator and five Republican Congressmen.

Re-elect Senator Brandeges.

Re-elect Senator Brandegee. For the first time you have the power to vote directly for United States Senator. Let us make good use of that power by voting to re-elect Senator Frank B. Brandegee of New London. He has proved his usefulness; his prestige and influence in the Senate are realities and the people of Connecticut ought not to lose the benefit of his training and experience. We necticut ought not to lose the benefit of his training and experience. We are proud of the reputation Senator Brandegee has made for himself as being one of the most sensible most influences in the Senate of the United influences in the Senate of the United States. A Republican majority in either Senate or House will assure the business world that Democratic legislation is at an end and will restore confidence to investor, courage to capital, employment to labor, and domestic prosperity to all.

The Republican party has always been the party which has carefully considered not alone the important interest of the worker, but also the in-considered not alone the important in-terest of the worker, but also the in-terest of the man who takes a chance in borrowing money to establish in-dustrial enterprises and also the in-terest of the investor who lends his or her money for that purpose. The Republican party holds the firm belief that you cannot hurt capital without hurting labor. There are some people everywhere who seem to take a peeverywhere who seem to take a pe-culiar satisfaction in any tirade against corporations, but if industrial enter-prises are to be unjustly assailed, harprises are to be unjustly assailed, har-rassed and driven to the wall, if nec-essarily means hardship to the worker, deprived of his wage, discouragement to manufacurer, robbed of his profit, distress to investor, denied his or her expected dividend, and there follows, as surely as the night the day, a pe-riod of business depression and general stagnation.

How Democrats Came Into Power. Two years ago, because of an un-fortunate division in the ranks of our party, the Democratic party was plac-ed in power in the state and nation against the real wishes of the majority of the people. This division, in the
